

A Story About Stories

David believes stories are the best way to teach. In his opinion, not only do teachers need to have a stockpile of favourite stories, but they also need to know how to use stories with their students. In addition to talking about the differences in the ways Indigenous and non-Indigenous Canadians use stories, David will share a plethora of stories – his and others. During David’s talk, which will be wrapped in sweet grass, sage and flutes, listeners will be introduced to the how and why of storytelling.

David Bouchard

A Story About Stories

February 2, 2017

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Engineering Computer Science
Building Room 123

David Bouchard is a storyteller, musician, and literacy advocate. A former teacher and principal, David is an award-winning Métis author of over 70 books. In 2009 he was named a member of the Order of Canada “for his contributions as an author of children’s books and an advocate who has championed the cause of reading and writing, and who has shared his pride as a member of the Métis community through his stories.”

For more information about David Bouchard visit www.davidbouchard.com.

Co-sponsored by: Faculty of Education, University of Victoria; Greater Victoria Primary Teachers’ Association; Saanich Teachers’ Association
TTOC Professional Development Committee; Sooke Teachers’
Association Professional Development Committee